

I am opposed to allowing the Consumer Bankers Association (CBA) to make telephone solicitations in Indiana. I, along with thousands of other Hoosiers, have enjoyed being protected by the Indiana No Call List and feel it would be an invasion of privacy if the CBA is permitted to violate it. The Internet provides ample opportunity for the CBA to reach those interested in and/or needing banking services. Calling our homes with unwelcomed and unrequested phone calls is not necessary. Thank you for allowing me to express my opinion and for your consideration of this matter.

Respectfully,

Robert E. Oatis II
